Family Service Centres

FSCs offer in-person support for low-income and/or vulnerable individuals and families with social and emotional issues, providing case management and coordinating holistic support for stability and self-reliance.

- ✓ Documents to prepare before your FSC visit:
  - Your identity card or birth certificate
  - Any relevant documents related to your concerns (e.g., medical reports)
- ✓ Locate and contact a FSC near your location.
  - FSC locator website:

Polyclinics and General Practitioners (GP)

Persons with mental health needs can seek holistic treatment at a nearby Polyclinic or GP clinic, which is closer to home. You will first see a family physician at the polyclinic, who may refer you for further treatment at a restructured hospital if necessary.

Hospitals

Hospitals offer various mental health services, such as counselling and rehabilitation. To access subsidised rates, visit a doctor at the polyclinic or a CHAS GP. You can also directly seek help from hospitals, but this would involve paying a private rate.

In the event of an emergency, please go to the hospital's A&E.

Access to specialised counselling services can significantly aid in navigating complex and sensitive issues. These services offer targeted support and professional guidance to individuals dealing with challenges like interpersonal violence, addiction, mental health conditions, and gender-based issues.
